News from the Faculty Research Support Office

Did you know?

There are currently international negotiations on the equitable distribution of Digital Sequencing Information (DSI)?

This digital representation of genetic resources is crucial for research, but raises questions about equitable distribution. A new multilateral mechanism could bring major changes to how researchers access genetic data.

Announcements

The Faculty Research Support Office conducted an analysis of the use of the Faculty Mobility Fund. Since covid, we have seen a large increase in the number of applications but thanks to the revamped application system, it remains just barely workable to process as many applications as possible at each CWO meeting.
