2024 NCCU Special Topic Summer Program

Supply Chain Management of Taiwan Semiconductor Industry, Geopolitics, and International Affairs

About NCCU

As one of renowned universities for Humanities and Social Sciences, National Chengchi University, founded and resumed to Taiwan in 1945, not only acts as a stronghold of its academic fields, but also ranked number one in excellence for its friendly English learning environment as we offer more than 800 English-taught courses. Nestled in tranquil Maokong mountain area, NCCU is privileged with gorgeous scenery while enjoying close proximity to Taipei city center in 20 minutes.

Program Introduction

This intensive program is designed to help participants develop a holistic view of the global semiconductor supply chain. The focused areas include a basic understanding of semiconductor designs and manufacturing processes, supply chain management, and potential supply interruptions caused by geopolitics and international relations. The program consists of lectures conducted by leading scholars and expert practitioners and field visits to vital semiconductor facilities in Taiwan.
